PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Another month has passed and fall is really here. I had to put the flannel sheets on. It's also time to think about winter projects. I visited Tara's shop the weekend after the meeting and it's truly beautiful, so beautiful I bought fabric for a Christmas project. Up until that visit I have been controlling my impulse for a fabric fix, but not that day. I even bought a Christmas present! I hope everyone is finishing up whatever needs to be done for the quilt show this month and making plans for the next project. That's the beauty of quilting; the possibilities are endless.

My sincere thanks go to the committees who have worked hard all year to make this show possible. I know the show is hard work, but I love to see people come through and appreciate everyone's efforts, both the organizers' and the quilters' hard work. It's fun to see what the kids have made and ooh and ah over the featured quilter's work. I enjoy greeting visitors and I invite every relative within visiting distance to attend. I hope you all do too. Our work is worth it! Be sure you have signed up for some time to work on that weekend. You should also be on the look-out for techniques and quilts you might like to learn to make. They could be future workshops.

For those of you who missed October's meeting, Pat Herman's daughter Paula brought boxes and boxes of fabric to share with guild members. Everyone was invited to take home a box and see what can be used. She's bringing more next month and whatever the members don't keep from their box will come back to be shared with others or added to cuddle quilt fabric. Pat also made some great gifts to be used as door prizes and whole kits, either cut or partly assembled, to be sold at the boutique. Some of her treasures will be prizes for the Christmas party this year as well. We have a lot to be grateful for and a lot to look forward to.

On a final note, the URL for the International Quilt Study Center and Museum is www.quiltstudy.org. On this website is the link for information and care for quilts. There you can download the brochure To Protect & Preserve: Caring for Family Quilts in the Home, which Linda Hunter shared with us at our last meeting. See you at the quilt show!

~ Martha

VICE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Hi Quilters,

So sorry I missed the October meeting, I really wanted to be there. It sounds like I missed a great presentation by Tara from the Heartland Quilt Shop. I heard that she had some interesting new items and some items for sale. The workshop for October was cancelled due to low interest.

November's program will be "To Copy or Not to Copy" with Ty Sen from Phillips & Lytle. He will be discussing copyright laws and the gray areas. Be prepared with questions....now is the time to ask. The workshop will be with Stephanie Drehs on Saturday, November 12th. We will be making a beautiful Christmas Tree skirt (supply list and pictures below).

We need at least 5 people to attend our workshops to make it worthwhile for our teachers. Unfortunately, when we do not get at least 5 people attending, the classes have been cancelling which makes it harder to schedule classes in the future. This may be something that needs to be addressed at the next meeting. Do we need to offer different classes? Should we limit the number of classes throughout the year? I'm not sure what the issue is, but could use some help from the guild in resolving this problem.

Our December meeting will be the Christmas Party in the Taylor Theater Meeting Room. Everyone is to bring a dish to pass and a place setting. We will be showing a slide show of the quilt show.

I just wanted to remind everyone that we are in the midst of a membership drive. If you are referring someone to join the guild, please be sure that they write in your name on their application.

We are looking for pictures to put on the website. If you have any pictures of quilts, workshops, Christmas Parties, or just members having fun please forward the pictures to: sandrashufelt@aol.com or bring them to the next meeting. Please be sure to have the owner's permission if you are submitting a quilt picture.

See you in November,

~ Sandy
